

California Litigation Review Contributing Authors

Kathleen M. Abdallah is a partner in the Stockton firm of Kroloff, Belcher, Smart, Perry & Christopherson. Ms. Abdallah's civil business litigation practice includes real estate, contract, and business tort litigation, creditors' rights and healthcare law.

Gary Christopherson is a partner in the Stockton firm of Kroloff, Belcher, Smart, Perry & Christopherson. Mr. Christopherson's practice includes business and real estate litigation and counseling.

Daniel L. Alexander is an associate in the Los Angeles office of O'Melveny & Myers LLP, and is a member of the firm's Litigation Department.

Brian S. Currey is a partner in the Los Angeles office of O'Melveny & Myers LLP, with a practice emphasizing complex business and environmental litigation.

David M. Axelrad is a partner in the Encino firm of Horvitz & Levy LLP, which specializes in civil appeals and writs. He is a member of the California Academy of Appellate Lawyers and has been certified as a specialist in appellate law by the State Bar of California Board of Legal Specialization.

Roman Darmer is a partner in the Irvine office of Howrey Simon Arnold & White LLP, where he specializes in white collar criminal defense, securities litigation, and complex commercial litigation.

Stephanie M. Byerly is an associate in the Irvine office of Howrey Simon Arnold & White LLP, and is a member of the Commercial Trial practice group.

Kathleen M. McDowell is a litigation partner at Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP. Her areas of practice include representing defendants in professional liability, securities and employment litigation in state and federal courts, as well as NASD arbitrations.

Cedric C. Chao, a partner of Morrison & Foerster since 1983, chairs the firm's international litigation and arbitration practice, and specializes in commercial litigation, complex criminal matters and international arbitration. Mr. Chao is a former chair of the State Bar Litigation Section.

Kim L. Nguyen is an associate in the Encino firm of Horvitz & Levy LLP, which specializes in civil appeals and writs. She received her Juris Doctor from Harvard Law School in 2000 and has since practiced in the areas of commercial litigation, antitrust, class action defense, unfair competition law, securities, and civil appeals.

Kenneth R. O'Rourke is a partner in the Los Angeles office of O'Melveny & Myers LLP, is a member of the firm's Intellectual Property & Technology and Litigation Departments, and co-chairs the Trade Secrets Subcommittee of the ABA Intellectual Property Litigation Committee. Mr. O'Rourke's practice emphasizes complex business litigation including the litigation of intellectual property and commercial disputes for high-technology companies.

Laura B. Renger is an associate in the Los Angeles office of O'Melveny & Myers LLP, and is a member of the firm's Litigation Department.

Mitchell C. Tilner is a partner in the Encino firm of Horvitz & Levy LLP, which specializes in civil appeals and writs. He is a member of the California Academy of Appellate Lawyers and has been certified as a specialist in appellate law by the State Bar of California Board of Legal Specialization.

Dean J. Zipser is the managing partner and head of the litigation group of the Orange County office of Morrison & Foerster. Mr. Zipser has a civil business litigation practice encompassing complex actions in intellectual property, contract, business torts, real estate, construction, consumer class actions and lender liability. He also has extensive experience in various alternative dispute resolution procedures.